

Department of Consumer Affairs,
Bureau of Electronic and Appliance Repair, Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation

15-Day Notice of Modifications to Text of Proposed Regulations

New Flammability Standards for Upholstered Furniture /
Articles Exempt from Flammability Standards

Pursuant to the requirements of Government Code section 11346.8(c), and California Code of Regulations, Title 1, Section 44, the California Bureau of Electronic and Appliance Repair, Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation (Bureau) is providing notice of changes made to the above entitled proposed regulation. Specifically, the Bureau is making changes to the text of Sections 1126, 1370, 1373.2, 1374, 1374.2, and 1383.2 of Title 4 of the California Code of Regulations. The Bureau is also making changes to the Technical Bulletin 117-2013 (TB 117-2013) which is to be incorporated by reference under Section 1373.2.

Modifications to the proposed language:

The Bureau is modifying Sections 1126(11) and (12) by updating the standard's reference date from January 2013 to June 2013 to reflect its revision date.

The Bureau is repealing Section 1370(a) to remove misleading and duplicative regulatory language.

The Bureau is modifying Section 1373.2 and 1374(a) by extending the manufacturers' mandatory compliance date from "On or after July 1, 2014" to "On or after January 1, 2015" to allow the additional time needed to deplete current supplies and effectuate the new regulatory changes; by deleting "test" and adding "fire retardant" to add clarity to the requirements of these sections; and by updating the standard's reference date from January 2013 to June 2013.

The Bureau is modifying Section 1373.2 to add language which would incorporate by reference the Technical Bulletin 117-2013 into regulation.

The Bureau is modifying Section 1374(a) by adding language which would provide reference to specific labeling requirements.

The Bureau is deleting infant mattresses and infant mattress pads from the criteria of exemption in Section 1374.2(c) since these products are currently under the jurisdiction of the Consumer Product Safety Commission and not the Bureau.

The Bureau is adding subsection (d) to Section 1374.2 which would allow articles of upholstered furniture to be manufactured in accordance with a written prescription from certain health care professionals, or with other comparable written medical therapeutic specification, that would be exempt from having to meet flammability standards. In addition, the Bureau is defining "health care professional" to make clear who would be qualified to write a prescription that would be considered valid and acceptable.

The Bureau is modifying Section 1383.2 by deleting the citation and fine provision of subsection 1370 to provide consistency with the repeal of Section 1370.

Modifications to the TB 117-2013 Standard:

Introduction:

- This section was modified to add reference to the decking materials test method.

Section 1. Cover Fabric Test

1.2 Test Specimen:

- The initial instruction was modified to name the correct version of the ASTM standard which is to be referenced which is “ASTM E1353-08a^{ε1}”.
- 1.3 Test Procedure:
- The initial instruction was modified to name the correct version of the ASTM standard which is to be referenced which is “ASTM E1353-08a^{ε1}”.
- Step 1.3.1 was deleted to remove the reference to the draft enclosure from the standard.
- Step 1.3.2 was renumbered to Step 1.3.1. The typographical error relating to the measurement between test specimens was corrected from 125 mm to 152 mm throughout the standard. In addition, the measurements were reordered to read inches/mm instead of mm/inches for consistency throughout the standard.
- Step 1.3.3 was renumbered to Step 1.3.2.
- Step 1.3.4 was deleted to remove the requirement that the maximum char length is to be measured in all directions. Instead ASTM step 11.9 is to be followed in its entirety which requires the char length to be measured in a vertical direction.

1.4 Pass/Fail Criteria:

- Step 1(b) was modified to make specific that the pass or fail of test specimen would be determined by measuring the vertical char length instead of measuring the char length in any direction.

Section 2. Barrier Materials Test

2.2 Test Specimens:

- The initial instruction referencing ASTM Section 20 was deleted to allow for modification to the measurements of the test materials.
- Step 2.2.1 was modified to make clear that the measurements of the test material mentioned in TB 117-2013 differed from that mentioned in ASTM step 20.1.
- Step 2.2.2 was added to make clear that the measurement of the Standard Type II cover fabric mentioned in TB 117-2013 differed from that mentioned in ASTM step 20.2.

2.3 Test Procedures:

- New step 2.3.1 (same as ASTM step 21.1) was added for easier to follow directions.
- New step 2.3.2 was added to make clear that the measurement of the cover fabric mentioned in TB 117-2013 differed from that mentioned in ASTM step 21.2.
- The instruction was modified to name the correct version of the ASTM standard which is "ASTM E1353-08a^{ε1}". The instruction was also modified to clarify that the ASTM test procedures are to be followed beginning with step 21.3 rather than step 21.1.
- The former step 2.3.1 was deleted to remove the reference to the draft enclosure from the standard.
- The former step 2.3.2 was renumbered to 2.3.3. The typographical errors and reorder of the measurements were corrected as mentioned above in step 1.3.2.
- The former step 2.3.3 was renumbered to Step 2.3.4.
- Step 2.3.4 was deleted to remove the requirement that the maximum char length is to be measured in all directions. Instead ASTM step 21.9 is to be followed in its entirety which requires the char length to be measured in a vertical direction.

2.4 Pass/Fail Criteria:

- Step 1(b) was modified to make specific that the pass or fail of test specimen would be determined by measuring the vertical char length instead of measuring in any direction.
- Step 5 was added back into the Pass/Fail Criteria as the correct numbering of the section was deleted in error.

Section 3. Resilient Filling Material Test

3.2 Weighing Device:

- Subsection 3.2 was deleted to remove the reference to the weighing device from the standard.

3.3 Test Specimen:

- 3.3 Test Specimen was renumbered to 3.2 Test Specimen
- The initial instruction was modified to name the correct version of the ASTM standard which is "ASTM E1353-08a^{ε1}".

- Step 3.3.2 was renumbered to 3.2.2.
- Step 3.3.3 was renumbered to 3.2.3. Also, the typographical errors relating to the measurement of the filling material thickness was corrected from 1.27 mm to 12.7 mm.

- Step 3.3.4 was deleted to remove the requirement relating to the weighing and recording of the test specimen.
- A note was added to specify how to measure and read the thickness of the test materials.

3.4 Test Procedure:

- 3.4 Test Procedure was renumbered to 3.3 Test Procedure.
- The initial instruction was modified to name the correct version of the ASTM standard which is “ASTM E1353-08a^{ε1}”.
- Step 3.4.1 was deleted to remove the reference to the draft enclosure from the standard.
- Step 3.4.2 was renumbered to 3.3.1. The typographical errors and reorder of the measurements were corrected as mentioned above in step 1.3.2.

- Step 3.4.4 was renumbered to 3.3.3.
- Step 3.4.5 was renumbered to 3.3.4.
- Steps 3.4.6 and 3.4.7 were deleted as the pass/fail criteria will no longer be determined based on the percentage of mass loss but by the maximum char length.

3.4 Pass/Fail Criteria:

- Step 1 (a), (b), and (c) was modified to add a time limit of 45 minutes to the test duration and to make specific that the pass or fail of test specimen would be determined by measuring the vertical char length instead of measuring the percentage of mass loss.
- Step 5 was added back into the Pass/Fail Criteria as the correct numbering of the section was deleted in error.
